

What To Expect When Renovating Your Concrete Swimming Pool

A General Guideline To Your Upcoming Project

Preparation

After choosing your materials and our office calls you with an estimated start date, make sure that your driveway is clear and accessible to our workers to avoid any damage to your lawn. There is also the possibility of dust during our restoration, so be sure to close any windows and doors that might let the dust into your home.

Plastering

Plastering is a project that is WEATHER DEPENDENT. Once the temperature is consistently warm enough and the forecast does not call for rain for several days, the project can begin. Once the pool is plastered, it immediately begins filling with water. Plaster payment as indicated on your contract is due at this time. The pool must be brushed and chemicals must be closely monitored for two weeks (see contract). During this time the pool water may appear cloudy, this is normal. As plaster cures there is a cream that rises to the surface and irregularities are to be expected. When the pool is up and running everything will even out in color and the aggregate will be exposed.

Tiling and Coping

Some materials are delivered unfinished. We fabricate our coping stones on site- after the stones are placed they are bullnosed and the seams are evened. Any naturally occurring holes in the stones will be filled in once placed. If your spa wall is filled in because of the pouring of the bond beam, it will be cut out after the pour has cured (we use this method to strengthen the structure and ensure longevity for your new spa wall). If your patio is not completely level with the coping before renovation, we must maintain the level of the patio so we can match the level of the new coping to sit exactly the same against the patio.

Leave Us A Review

on our Angie's List, Houzz, or Google accounts. Feel free to tag us when you post your finished backyard on your Facebook or Instagram profiles and we will mention you on our accounts as well! You can find direct links to all of these on our website.

